2. Grammar Correction

During the lesson, you made some common grammar mistakes. This section helps you practise the correct forms. Study the patterns carefully before doing the exercises.

2.1. Topic A – “I haven’t completed my homeworks yet” → Homework is Uncountable

HOMEWORK is an uncountable noun in English. We never say “homeworks”.

55 “I haven’t completed my homeworks yet.”

51 “I haven’t completed my homework yet.”

Other uncountable nouns like this: information, advice, knowledge, equipment, furniture, traffic, news.

Exercise 2A – Correct the mistakes. Write the correct sentence.

1. “I received many informations from the internet.”

2. “She gave me two advices about my job.”

3. “The furnitures in this room are very expensive.”

4. “I have a lot of homeworks to do this weekend.”

5. "The news are very bad today."

2.2. Topic B – Future Plans: "I will go on tomorrow" vs "I will go tomorrow"

When talking about future plans, use the structure below:

Subject + will + base verb + time expression

55 "Maybe I will go the early morning on tomorrow."

51 "Maybe I will go early in the morning tomorrow."

Time expressions: tomorrow, the day after tomorrow, next week, in the morning, early in the morning, at night.

Exercise 2B – Rewrite these sentences correctly.

1. "I will buy on tomorrow some apples from the market."

2. "She will come the evening on Friday."

3. "I will wake up at the 6:00 on tomorrow."

4. "Maybe I will go the market in morning."

2.3. Topic C – Comparative Adjectives: "more delicious than" / "more expensive than"

You used comparatives correctly in the lesson – well done! Let's practise more.

Short adjectives (1 syllable): add -er + than cheap → cheaper than, fast → faster than

Long adjectives (2+ syllables): use more + adjective + than delicious → more delicious than, expensive → more expensive than 51 "Organic apples are more delicious than regular ones."

51 "They are also more expensive than the others."

Exercise 2C – Write the comparative form and complete the sentence.

1. organic food / healthy → Organic food is _____ regular food.
2. AI scams / dangerous → AI scams are _____ old-style scams.

3. sweet potatoes / small → Sweet potatoes are _____ regular potatoes.
4. a good friend / important → A good friend is _____ money.
5. this article / difficult → This article is _____ the last one.

2.4. Topic D – “Become” vs “Be”

BECOME = to change and start being something (process)

BE = to describe a state that already exists

55 “Become become a good person is enough.”

51 “Becoming a good person is enough to be happy.”

After a preposition or at the start of a subject clause, use the -ing form (gerund):

“Being honest is important.” “Becoming successful takes time.”

Exercise 2D – Choose the correct option.

1. (Become / Becoming) a doctor requires many years of study.
2. She wants to (be / being) a lawyer one day.
3. (Be / Being) aware of scams can protect you.
4. He is slowly (become / becoming) more confident in English.
5. (Become / Becoming) ethical is the most important goal.

3. Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully (this is a summary of what we read in class). Then answer the questions below.

Advances in artificial intelligence have made it possible to recreate a person's voice from just a few seconds of audio. These short recordings are often taken from social media, podcasts, or online videos without the person's knowledge.

Once a scammer has cloned a voice, they can use it to call the victim's family members. For example, a caller might pretend to be a kidnapper, using a cloned version of a daughter's voice to beg her father to pay a ransom. Because the voice sounds completely real and familiar, the victim is easily deceived.

What makes AI voice scams particularly dangerous is that they no longer feel like scams. Traditional fraud relied on rigid, scripted phone calls that were easy to identify. AI scams, by contrast, can evolve in real time – the voice reacts and responds naturally during the conversation, making it feel like a genuine dialogue with someone you know and trust.

The scale of the problem is already large. In a study of 7,000 adults, roughly one in four people said they had been exposed to an AI voice cloning scam. About four in ten admitted they doubted their ability to tell a real voice from a synthetic one. Experts agree that there is no single solution. Legislation is developing, but it is slow. Technology helps, but so does the oldest defence of all: awareness and suspicion. If you pause when you receive an urgent demand, you weaken the scammer's position immediately. Time is the one thing scammers cannot afford.

3.1. Exercise 3A – Comprehension Questions

Answer in complete sentences.

1. How do scammers get recordings of people's voices?
2. Why are AI voice scams more dangerous than traditional scams?
3. According to the study of 7,000 adults, what did one in four people say?
4. What does the article say is the best defence against AI voice scams?
5. In your own words, explain why "time is the one thing scammers cannot afford."

3.2. Exercise 3B – True, False, or Not Given?

Write T (True), F (False), or NG (Not Given – the text does not say).

AI can recreate a voice from several hours of recordings.

Traditional fraud calls were easy to identify because they followed rigid scripts.

The McAfee company conducted the study of 7,000 adults.

Emotional appeals should always be used in persuasion.

Pausing when you receive an urgent demand helps to weaken the scammer's position.

All governments have already passed laws against AI voice cloning.
