

TOEFL Speaking Practice Test

Designed for Effective Practice

Date: September 27, 2025

Instructions

This practice test is designed to simulate the TOEFL Speaking section. It includes four tasks, each with specific preparation and response times. Read each task carefully, adhere to the time limits, and record your responses as instructed. Ensure you have a quiet environment and a recording device ready. For tasks requiring listening, assume audio will be provided separately. Follow the structure and timing as you would in the actual TOEFL test.

1 Task 1: Independent Speaking

Topic: Many people prefer watching music videos on television or the Internet rather than listening to songs on their own. Which way of experiencing music do you think is preferable and why?

Preparation Time: 15 seconds

Response Time: 45 seconds

Instructions: Prepare a concise response stating your preference and supporting it with clear reasons. Record your response within the time limit.

Response Notes:

- State your preference clearly (e.g., music videos or audio-only).
- Provide 1–2 reasons (e.g., visual storytelling, focus on music quality).
- Use the full 45 seconds to elaborate briefly.

2 Task 2: Integrated Speaking (Reading + Listening)

Reading Passage:

The university has decided to change its transportation options for students. We regret to inform you that the university will no longer be able to offer complementary transportation by bus between various stops on campus and in the city at large. Instead, all students will now be given a fifty-dollar pass for public transportation. It will be renewable each semester. This pass can be used on all public subways and buses. While the university regrets this inconvenience, it is hoped that students will take the opportunity to immerse themselves more closely in the local community.

Reading Time: 45 seconds

Listening Instructions: Listen to the audio of a female student expressing her opinion about the university's new policy.

Question: The female student expresses her opinion about why she disagrees with the university's new policy. State her opinion and explain the reasons she gives for holding that opinion.

Preparation Time: 30 seconds

Response Time: 60 seconds

Instructions: Summarize the student's opinion and explain her reasons based on the audio. Record your response within the time limit.

Response Notes:

- Clearly state the student's opinion (e.g., she disagrees with the policy).
- Summarize 2–3 reasons from the audio (e.g., cost, convenience, reliability).
- Organize your response: opinion first, then reasons with examples.

3 Task 3: Integrated Speaking (Reading + Listening)

Reading Passage:

The Decline of Greco-Roman Ideals in Art

Before the nineteenth century, European critics generally believed that works of art that were based on Greco-Roman ideals of beauty represented the pinnacle of achievement. Artwork based on those ideals strived, in part, to represent the physical world at its aesthetic best. In the twentieth century, however, philosophical views concerning art significantly changed. Notable critics began to judge work not by whether it subscribed to those Greco-Roman standards, but instead by its power to evoke powerful ideas and emotions, even through jarring, at times unattractive abstraction. Although some artistic works continued to draw from Greco-Roman ideals, the ways in which they were judged shifted notably.

Reading Time: 45 seconds

Listening Instructions: Listen to a lecture on the same topic.

Question: Using the points and examples in the lecture, explain how artistic standards changed in the twentieth century.

Preparation Time: 30 seconds

Response Time: 60 seconds

Instructions: Use points from the lecture to explain the shift in artistic standards. Record your response within the time limit.

Response Notes:

- Explain the shift from Greco-Roman ideals to new standards.
- Use 2–3 points from the lecture (e.g., focus on emotion, abstraction).

- Include specific examples from the lecture to support your explanation.

4 Task 4: Integrated Speaking (Listening)

Listening Instructions: Listen to part of a lecture on the double slit experiment.

Question: Using points and examples from the talk, describe the double slit experiment and explain why the professor thinks that it is significant.

Preparation Time: 20 seconds

Response Time: 60 seconds

Instructions: Describe the double slit experiment and explain its significance based on the lecture. Record your response within the time limit.

Response Notes:

- Describe the experiment briefly (e.g., setup, key observations).
- Explain 2–3 reasons the professor finds it significant (e.g., quantum mechanics insights).
- Structure your response: description first, then significance.

Tips for Success

- Time Management: Stick to the preparation and response times for each task.
- Clarity: Speak clearly and at a steady pace for the recording.
- Structure: Organize your responses with a clear introduction, main points, and examples.
- : Review your recordings to improve fluency and coherence.
